Day 102: Pattern Power

What comes next?

Learn together

Patterns help children notice order and relationships. Start with claps, colours, shapes or movements, then ask what should come next and why. Children can make their own repeating pattern and challenge someone else to continue it. Invite explanations instead of focusing only on the answer.

Activity 1 — Think and write or draw

Create an AB, AAB or ABC pattern and extend it three more steps.

My ideas / drawing:

Activity 2 — Try it

■ I tried the activity ■ I asked a question ■ I shared what I noticed

What did I notice or learn?

Activity 3 — Challenge

Can you explain your idea to a family member, teacher or friend? What would you like to try next?

Grown-up note: Keep the activity age-appropriate, supervise where needed, and celebrate curiosity and effort.
